The author – Carol Doeringer

Carol Doeringer tells nature stories. One of her favorite ways to spend a day is behind her camera, filming birds, animals, and insects. She shares those stories on her blog, Tales from a West Michigan Wood, and in her children's books. If You Wake a Skunk is Carol's first book, published by Sleeping Bear Press and illustrated by Florence Weiser. The book is a fun look at the warning signs skunks give before launching their stench defense. Carol learned to read those signals decades ago, when skunks often gathered by the dozen to dine on grubs in her grass. Carol's background includes thirty years' experience developing and teaching corporate finance to bankers and financial managers. She has a bachelor's degree in French and a master's in business administration. Carol lives in southwest Michigan with her husband and their dog Finley, who has—so far—avoided any skunk encounters.

The illustrator – Florence Weiser

Florence Weiser is a French illustrator based in Belgium. She works surrounded by a huge garden populated with plants and wild animals, which is great for inspiration. After growing up in Luxembourg, she studied illustration at ESA Saint-Luc in Brussels, then followed specializations in graphics and web design at the École des Gobelins and Estienne, in Paris. She works most often for children's literature, cultural and associative fields, as well as the press.
